2017 Program and Speakers

- Dave Christensen is the head of Christensen Design Management in Bellingham, Washington. He will be speaking about the memoir The Red Umbrella, written by his sister Johna Christensen, which he published after her death. The Red Umbrella recounts the complex life in German-occupied Copenhagen through the eyes of Johna, who was born in 1937. With a Jewish mother and her father involved in the Resistance, the young Johna had to keep many secrets and eventually was evacuated to Sweden. Saturday, June 24.
- Henry Geijsbeek, lifelong aviation enthusiast and photographer, will speak on Jacob C. H. Ellehammer, a Danish aviation pioneer responsible for inventing early planes, helicopters, and even a convertible car plane. Mr. Geijsbeek is from Kent, Washington and works for Boeing. Sunday, June 25.
- Kristian Næsby is serving as a Visiting Danish Lecturer at the University of Washington, Scandinavian Studies Department. Grundtvig will be the topic of his discussion, encompassing the philosophy behind the Danish folk high school tradition with a focus on its contemporary relevance and its importance in the development of democracy. Friday, June 23.
- Pastor Birgitte Saltorp, from the Danish Lutheran Church of Vancouver, Canada, will be giving two presentations looking at the Danish Reformation and life in Medieval Denmark. 2017 marks the 500th anniversary of the Reformation and Pastor Saltorp will look at leaders of this movement in Denmark. Her second presentation looks at life in Medieval Denmark as illustrated by murals in Danish churches. Friday, June 23 and Saturday, June 24

- Rasmus Thøgersen, is the new Executive Director, Museum of Danish America in Elk Horn, Iowa. He will discuss current and upcoming exhibits at the Museum of Danish America, focusing on the current exhibit entitled, The Whimsical World of Bjørn Wiinblad. Prior to his appointment as Executive Director, Mr. Thøgersen was the Director at the Morton-James Public Library in Nebraska. He is from Hellerup, Denmark. Saturday, June 24.

- Dr. Elisabeth Ward, will give presentations on the Women of Vinland and on the Icelandic manuscripts. Dr. Ward has studied both the language and traditions of Iceland. Prior to completing her Ph.D. in 2012, she served as assistant curator on a Smithsonian exhibit on the Vikings and at a museum in Iceland. Most recently she ran the Scandinavian Cultural Center at Pacific Lutheran University. Saturday, June 25 and Sunday, June 26.

Kro Aftens, evening gatherings at the Creevey Commons, include wine, beer, food, and evening entertainment.
